

Bio Paul Seshadri

Paul Seshadri is a doctoral candidate in the Faculty of Education at the University of Ottawa. He holds a BA in Geography, BEd, and MA in Rural Development. Since 1986 he has been involved in humanitarian assistance and international development. He has worked in Zaire, Ecuador, Malawi, Bosnia, Guinea, Sudan, Laos, Kenya, Jordan, Zimbabwe, Zambia and Mozambique.

Paul has work experience with a broad range of international development assistance organizations, including Médecins sans Frontières, CARE, the German Technical Cooperation (GTZ), CODE, GOAL-Ireland, the International Rescue Committee, the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe and Voluntary Service Overseas. He has managed and administered programs in the sectors of education, HIV & AIDS, agriculture, health & nutrition, and water & sanitation in both emergency and development settings.

His doctoral research will focus on the participation of girl ex-combatants in formal and informal education in Liberia.